LEGAL OPINIONS

Payment or Certification After Banking Hours.—

Where bank pays or certifies a customer's check after banking hours and customer, before banking hours of next day, seeks to stop payment, question considered whether payment or certification valid and binding on customer—Conclusion reached that such payment or certification probably valid, although point has never been directly passed upon by courts in a case between customer and bank, 19.

Forged Order on Savings Deposit.—Where bank pays savings deposits to wrong person on presentation of passbook with forged order, liability depends on whether due care used—Decisions referred to, 22.

Unindorsed Check.—Bank upon which check drawn not obliged to pay or give credit for same where a necessary indorsement is lacking, 23.

Release of Chattle Mortgage—Nebraska.—Order to county clerk to discharge mortgage must be attested, 23.

National Bankruptcy Act.—American Bankers Association has never taken steps looking to repeal of Act, 23.

Bank Taxation in New York.—Banks obliged to report names of stockholders with number of shares to assessor, 24.

Competency of Notary—Colorado.—Notary who is stockholder probably incompetent to take acknowledgments of instruments running to his bank; but officer not a stockholder would be competent, 24.

Competency of Notary—Louisiana.—Notary who is stockholder probably incompetent to take acknowledgments of instruments running to the bank although disqualification may not extend to protests—Officer not stockholder is competent, 24.

Competency of Notary—Nebraska.—Notary who is stockholder not competent to take acknowledgments of instruments running to the bank—But officer who is not stockholder is competent, 24.

Protest by Justice of the Peace.—Statute of Louisiana authorizing Justices of the Peace to make protests in certain cases, 24.

Deposit of Check.—Bank in which check is deposited and credited is a holder in due course to the extent of the amount paid out against such deposit and may recover same from the drawer where payment has been stopped, 25.

Usurious Bank Loan.—Opinion that loan by bank at maximum rate on condition that borrower keep a stated amount on deposit during period of loan, is usurious—Authorities cited, 25.

Stock Dividends.—When a dividend on stock is declared it belongs to the then owner of the stock and does not pass with a subsequent transfer of the stock unless by express contract, 26.

Bank Account with Firm.—Sufficiency of signature "Smith Bros." as firm name to checks and notes without adding name of individual partner who signs firm name, 26.

Certificate of Renewal of Fidelity Bond.—Form of certificate that books and accounts have been examined and found correct in every respect is objectionable from bankers' standpoint—What courts have held concerning same, 26.

Certification of Checks.—Bank not obliged to certify and where customer instructs bank not to certify his checks, this is sufficient reason for refusal to certify, 28.

Return of Cash for Deposited Item.—Where a depositor hands in a check for credit, receiving part credit and the balance in cash and afterwards denies receiving cash, the fact that he had retained his balanced passbook showing the amount credited for over a year without objection, makes balance an account stated which is conclusive unless depositor can show fraud, mistake or omission—If depositor impeaches account, bank can show facts connected with deposit—Discussion of how bank should safeguard itself where a customer requests cash instead of credit for a deposited item, 28.

Saturday Paper in North Carolina.—There is no Saturday half-holiday in North Carolina, and paper falling due on Saturday is payable on that day, 29.

Derogatory Statement Affecting Bank.—Person who makes untrue statement to customer that bank not safe and will "bust" and advises customer to withdraw his money is punishable under statute enacted in Pennsylvania, in 1909, 97.

Derogatory Statement Affecting Bank.—Question considered as to liability of editor of local newspaper who publishes false statement derogatory to one bank and in favor of another, 97.

Obtaining Money Under False Pretenses.—Person receiving money knowing he is not entitled to it from one who believes he is entitled to it, without making any other false representation or pretense, probably not guilty of crime under false pretense statute, 98.

Deposit of Minor.—Father has no right to withdraw deposit to credit of infant son, although father made deposit—Father cannot control child's property unless duly appointed guardian and judicial policy in Pennsylvania is not to appoint parent as curator of child's estate—Statute regulating deposits of minors, 99.

Note of Incompetent Person Under Guardianship.—Minnesota statute makes contracts of person put under guardianship void—but notes given before guardian appointed collectible if acquired in good faith without notice of incompetency, 99.

Bank as Collection Agent.—Propriety of sending check back for payee's indorsement before forwarding for payment, 100.

Negligence of Collecting Bank.—Bank which receives three indorsed notes for collection with instructions to protest if not paid and, upon learning that renewals have been forwarded, returns the notes to its principal without protesting or taking steps to hold indorsers, is liable for any loss sustained, 100.

Liability of Agent Bank.—Bank holding B/L to be delivered on signing attached agreement which, in violation of instructions, delivers B/L without procuring signature to agreement, is liable to principal for damages sustained. But if principal not rightfully entitled to have agreement signed as condition of delivery of B/L and imposing of such condition is wrongful and fraudulent, the loss of opportunity to drive an unconscionable bargain would not be legitimate actual damage recoverable from agent bank, 101.

Collection of B/L Draft.—Question whether collecting bank liable for neglect of duty in connection with collection of draft with B/L for motor cycle attached and conclusion reached that bank not liable—Rule of liability of initial bank for default of subsequent banks stated, 101.

Protest Fees.—Right of collecting bank to recover protest fees from sending bank in a stated case, 102.

Bond for Title.—Where B gives bond for title to A and A transfers bond to bank as security, bond and transfer being recorded, and bank afterwards entrusts bond to A, who wrongfully disposes of it, opinion under facts of case, that bank does not lose its security, 103.

Deed for Annuity.—Suggestion for form of deed with condition subsequent to secure payment of annuity, 104.

Certification Over Telephone.—Bank purchasing check from payee after receiving statement over telephone by drawee that check is good, has no recourse, upon non-payment, against drawee, as certification over telephone is invalid, not being in writing. Bank's sole recourse is against drawer and payee, 104.

Mortgage in Name of Cashier.—Where a mortgage runs to "John Doe, Cashier, First National Bank," and an assignment of such mortgage is executed by "John Scott, Cashier, First National Bank," successor of Doe, opinion that courts would be likely to hold that mortgage so drawn and assignment so executed were instruments running to and executed by the bank and not the person named as cashier individually, although the authorities are not all uniform, 105.

Note Payable at Bank.—In states having Negotiable Instruments Law (with exception of Illinois and Nebraska) note payable at maker's bank is equivalent to an order on bank to pay same for his account. Rule uncertain in Mississippi, 106.

Payment of Deposit by Mistake.—Bank's right of recovery from depositor receiving payment, 106.

Set Off Against Bankrupt's Deposit.—Bank holding demand note of customer who is prospective bankrupt has right to apply customer's deposit on note and prove claim for balance due, 107.

Alteration of Check.—Bank should not pay check which shows alteration in statement of consideration and should obey request of customer to refuse payment of checks thus altered, 107.

Payment of Check After Death of Drawer.—Death of drawer revokes bank's authority to pay except where check an assignment, or statute expressly authorizes payment during limited time after drawer's death—but where bank pays in ignorance of death it is protected, 107.

Form of Pledge.—Validity and sufficiency considered with reference to provision constituting pledgor agent of pledgee, 108.

Limit of Loan by National Bank.—When limit is loaned to a corporation, an additional loan to a stockholder is not excessive unless corporation is maker or indorser on paper or loan to stockholder is for its benefit, 108.

Purchase of Sight Draft.—Where draft dishonored, holder has recourse upon drawer—No recourse upon customer introducing and signing drawer's name to draft at latter's request, 108.

Forged Indorsement.—Bank which cashes and collects check bearing forged indorsement must refund unless there has been unreasonable delay after discovery of forgery in giving notice thereof, by which bank is injured, 109.

Joint and Several Note.—Note reading "I" promise to pay, signed by two or more makers, is joint and several under the law merchant and Negotiable Instruments Law and is a better form from the standpoint of the holder than one reading "we" promise to pay, which at common law is a joint note only, 109.

Accommodation Indorser Before Payee.—Is liable to payee for value on note of corporation, although maker because of incapacity is not liable.—But if note void for illegality, this defense is open to accommodation indorser, 166.

Official Check for Private Debt.—Bank which takes check of corporation in payment of private debt of official who signs corporation check is put on inquiry, 168.

Collateral Note.—Construction of clause that excess of collaterals shall be applied to any other note or claim against maker held by bank, 169.

Interstate Shipment of Intoxicating Liquor.—Opinion that bank collecting draft with warehouse receipt for intoxicating liquor attached coming from another State, would not violate Section 239 U. S. Criminal Code, under which, according to Federal decision in North Dakota, it is unlawful for bank to collect B/L draft covering interstate shipment of intoxicating liquor, 169.

Protest of Negotiable Instruments.—Has not been abolished in any State, 170.

Certification of Check.—Bank has right to certify check when presented by holder and immediately charge to customer's account, 170.

Check Without Funds.—Opinion that giving of worthless check for advance interest on renewal of note did not, under facts of case, violate Florida criminal laws, 171.

Guaranty of Payment.—Persons other than payee indorsing on note "for value received we hereby guarantee payment of within note" are liable as guarantors and not as indorsers, 172.

Promissory Note.—Consideration of certain clauses (1) waiving presentment, (2) consenting to extension, (3) waiving exemptions and homesteads, and (4) providing for costs of collection and attorney's fees if not paid at maturity, as affecting negotiability, 173.

Assignment of Account.—After notice of assignment to debtor, payment to assignor is at his risk, 173.

Guarantee of Indorsement.—"Prior indorsements guaranteed," warrants genuineness of payee's indorsement, not only where name of payee is forged but also where payee's name is signed without authority by another, 174.

Interest Clause.—Opinion that provision in note "If the interest be not paid annually when due, the same to be added to the principal and draw the same rate of interest," does not destroy negotiability, 174.

Acceptance of Check by Wire.—Bank receiving wire asking if it will pay check of customer for stated amount and wiring reply that it will pay is bound to one who purchases check on faith of such telegraphic promise.—Opinion that bank accepting check by wire has right to charge amount to drawer's account the same as in case of a check certified over counter and drawer cannot thereafter stop payment, 175.

Deceased Depositor's Account.—Concerning payment of checks after death of drawer and receipt of money on deposit from a creditor of deceased, 176.

Duplicate Deposit Slip.—Is evidence of receipt of deposit on stated date, but not binding obligation or promise of bank to pay amount to transferee of deposit slip, 176.

Check on Blank Form of Another Bank.—Payment by substituted drawee is legal but unsafe, 176.

Interest Blank in Note.—Note "with interest at rate of — per cent per annum until paid" draws legal interest from date.—But if pen line is drawn through blank after words "rate of," this would indicate an intentional erasure of the entire interest clause, 240.

Libel and Slander of Bank.—Bank may maintain action for damages against person who circulates derogatory statements affecting its credit and solvency.—Concerning legislation to punish offender criminally, 241.

Undated Check.—Is valid and negotiable under the Negotiable Instruments Law, 241.

Payment of Forged Check.—Right of recovery by drawee bank, paying check on which signature of drawer is forged, under law of Pennsylvania.—Question whether the Negotiable Instruments Law repeals the Act of 1849.—Does bank guaranteeing genuineness of prior indorsement warrant genuineness of drawer's signature where he is also indorsing payee? 242.

Certificate of Deposit to Minor.—Opinion that bank issuing certificate of deposit to minor has right to pay same to bona fide indorsee of minor although latter's father orders bank not to pay, 243.

Deposit of Minor.—In California, deposit may be paid to minor free from control of father, 244.

Post-Dated Check.—Is not presentable until day of its date arrives and if presented before such date, cannot be protested for non-acceptance, 244.

Wife's Check on Husband's Account.—In the absence of authority, bank should not pay check drawn on husband's account signed in his name by wife, 245.

Rights of Purchaser of Check.—Bank cashing check for payee in good faith can recover of drawer where payment stopped, 245.

Deceased Depositor's Account.—Right of bank to receive and credit to account money or checks offered by a debtor of decedent before executor or administrator has qualified, 245.

A. B. A. Burglary Policy.—Covers opening safes by "chemicals or electricity" as well as by "tools or explosives," 246.

Bills of Lading.—Construction of Section 37 of the Pomerene bill (an adaptation for Federal enactment of the Uniform Bills of Lading Act) which has passed the United States Senate and is pending in the House, 246.

Imperfect Indorsement.—Concerning propriety of return for proper indorsement where "prior indorsement guaranteed," 247.

Protest.—Should check, refused payment because of apparent alteration in date, be protested by presenting bank? 247.

Preference by Bankrupt.—Substitution of new mortgage, within four months, on same property covered by old mortgage, would not be a preference, but taking of additional security would be a preference to extent of such security, 247.

Stolen Certificate of Stock.—Except in states which have passed the Uniform Transfer of Stock Act a certificate of stock though properly indorsed in blank, is not completely negotiable and a purchaser from a finder or thief takes no title as against the true owner, 248.

Lost Certificate of Deposit.—Where depositor claims negotiable certificate has been lost or stolen, only safe course for bank is to require bond of indemnity before issuing second certificate, 304.

Payment of Savings Deposit on Forged Order.—Opinion that by-law of bank protects it from liability where reasonable care used—What is reasonable care where payment to person, not purporting to be depositor, who presents pass-book and forged order, 305.

Payment of Forged Check.—Drawee paying forged check cannot recover from bona fide holder receiving payment, 307.

Payment of Forged Check.—Question of right of drawee which paid forged check through clearings to recover of bank which received on deposit and collected such check—Recovery of payment on forged indorsement not affected by rules of clearing house, 308.

Note Payable at Bank.—Where bank receives note for collection payable at same bank and maker's account is insufficient at maturity, instrument should not be charged against subsequent deposits without express instructions from maker, 309.

Bank's Right of Set-off.—Right of bank to charge dishonored check to indorser's account, 309.

Set-off Against Deceased Depositor.—When depositor dies, bank may apply balance to his credit at time of his death upon a matured indebtedness of depositor, 310.

Deposit of Check Payable to Two Payees.—Where check payable to A and B, who are not partners, is indorsed "A and B per A" and offered for deposit to credit of A's personal account, bank, before accepting deposit, should be satisfied that B has authorized A to make such indorsement—Rule in case of partnership indorsement, 310.

Certification of Check.—Bank under no obligation to holder to certify check when presented with incorrect indorsement, 311.

Payment of Interest in Advance.—Where maker of demand note pays interest for three months in advance to bank holding note, such payment does not of itself constitute an agreement extending time of payment of the principal for three months—In some states such payment is, and in other states is not, prima facie evidence of agreement to extend; but it is in no case conclusive evidence, 311.

Transfer of Stock.—Where A signs transfer and power of attorney on stock certificate and delivers to B for value, A's subsequent death does not affect B's right to have stock transferred on books of corporation—but if A's death occurs before delivery of certificate, doubtful if subsequent delivery would be effectual, 312.

Statement of "Particular Fund" in Negotiable Instrument.—Explanation of meaning of and distinction between provisions of Negotiable Instruments Law that (a) order or promise to pay is unconditional though coupled with indication of particular fund out of which reimbursement is to be made and (b) order or promise to pay out of particular fund is not unconditional, 312.

"Order Notify" Bill of Lading.—Question as to responsibility of collecting bank supplying shipper's indorsement, 313.

Indorsement of Check.—Opinion that indorsement of check "Pay yourselves or order" would be construed as an indorsement to the drawee and not to another holder to whom the check was forwarded, 313.

Rights of Holder of Stopped Check.—In Illinois where check is not an assignment, drawer may countermand payment and holder has no right of action against bank thereon but his recourse is limited to drawer and prior parties—In Minnesota where check is an assignment, drawer cannot countermand payment when in hands of bona fide holder and latter has right of action against drawee bank which refuses payment, when in funds, because of stop order, 372.

Liability of Bank to Checkholder.—Except in few states where check is an assignment, the holder of a check (not certified) has no right of action against the bank which refuses to pay same but sole recourse is upon drawer and prior parties, 373.

Purchaser of Stopped Check.—Bona fide purchaser for value of stopped draft which has been duly protested has recourse upon drawer and prior indorsers, 373.

Certificate of Deposit.—Suggestion of a non-negotiable form of certificate, 374.

Certification of Check Over Telephone.—Where bank answers inquiry over telephone that checks drawn on it are good but before presentment drawer stops payment, bank is not liable to holder of checks, 374.

Rubber Stamp Indorsement.—Indorsement by rubber stamp is legal but in some cases more difficult to prove its authenticity than if, hand-written, 374.

Heir's Note for Decedent's Debt.—Question considered and authorities found to be in conflict whether notes of widow and daughter, who have received assets, given for debt of decedent not proved against estate within time required by law, are based on sufficient consideration and enforceable, 375.

Bank Set Off.—Right of bank purchasing note from indorser before maturity, for value, to set off note against maker's deposit upon its maturity, 376.

Unauthorized Indorsement.—Where Secretary of Trust Company indorses checks payable to trust company over to himself and deposits in his personal account, opinion that bank of deposit liable to trust company for proceeds as indorsement is without either express or implied authority of trust company and furthermore bank of deposit put on inquiry from form of transaction, 376.

Check on A "Payable if Desired at" B.—Negotiability of check so drawn uncertain, depending on whether instrument construed to be drawn on two drawees in the alternative or on one drawee with two places of payment—Action of New York Clearing House as to this form of draft, 377.

Protest of Note.—Where body of note contains waiver of protest and instrument is forwarded for collection with no instructions as to protest, opinion that proper course for collecting bank is to omit protest, 378.

Right to Vote National Bank Stock.—Opinion that trustee in bankruptcy has right to vote stock in hands of pledgee of bankrupt, where stock has not been transferred to pledgee on books of bank, 378.

Default of Collecting Bank.—Where A deposits money in H bank to pay draft which is forwarded by B to H bank for collection and H bank applies money and sends its own draft in remittance, which is dishonored because of its failure, the loss falls on B and not on A, 379.

Bank Collection.—In Texas bank receiving draft for collection at distant point is responsible for default of correspondent, 379.

Deposit of "Trusty" in Hospital.—Where money is earned and deposited in bank by one who is a trusty in a hospital for treatment of the insane, bank cannot safely pay the deposit to such trusty, but should make payment only to the proper legal guardian, 380.

Bank Account with "John Doe, Trustee" or "John Doe, Agent."—Question whether bank is safe, under law of New York, in carrying account for John Doe trustee or agent without inquiring as to identity of cestui que trust or principal and extent of Doe's authority, 440.

Check "With Exchange."—Where check drawn and payable at same place, words "with exchange" therein are without effect and meaningless, 444.

Set Off by Depositor.—Where bank fails holding unmatured note of depositor, latter has right to set off deposit standing to his credit against his liability on note, 445.

Bond of Indemnity by Attorney Depositor.—Suggested form of bond of indemnity to secure bank against loss by reason of checks payable to clients indorsed by their attorney for deposit to his personal credit, 445.

Chattel Mortgage Security.—Question whether mortgagee's affidavit of consideration, required by New Jersey Chattel Mortgage Act, is defective and mortgage void as to mortgagor's creditors by omission of oral agreement of mortgagor that, on a certain contingency, he would consent to return part of consideration before maturity, 446.

Liability of Drawer of Stopped Bank Draft.—Where part of consideration for which draft issued is worthless, bank stopping payment not liable to payee for so much thereof as is without consideration; but if draft transferred, bank would be liable to holder in due course for full amount, 447.

Payment of Forged Check.—Question whether drawee, paying check upon which drawer's signature forged, has right of recovery from holder receiving payment, in a stated case, 447.

Payment of Forged Check.—Where drawee pays check to bona fide holder upon which both drawer's signature and payee's indorsement are forged, drawee has no right of recovery under law of New York, 448.

Note Payable to "A B C and Others"—Is not negotiable because of uncertainty as to payee, 449.

Statute of Limitations on Certified Check.—In Pennsylvania, statute does not begin to run until demand and refusal to pay—Question of duty and responsibility of bank where it learns that corporation, to whom instrument payable, is ignorant of its existence, same being withheld by an employee, 449.

Protest of Check.—Where check drawn and payable in the same State, the fact that it is mailed to a payee in another State does not make it a foreign bill of exchange, so as to make protest upon dishonor compulsory as distinguished from permissible, 450.

Compulsory Disclosure of Customers' Balances for Tax Purposes.—Decisions protect bank officers from being compelled to make disclosure of names of depositors in gross and amounts of their deposits, for purposes of taxation—But in a proper proceeding against one or more depositors, specified by name, bank officer not privileged to refuse to produce books and testify as to balances of such depositors, 515.

Partial Payment Indorsed on Note.—Where credit of amount on note as part payment is in maker's handwriting, burden of proof is on latter to establish fact, 517.

Payment of Draft by Foreign Bank on Forged Indorsement.—Under law of Germany, paying drawee not responsible for genuineness of indorsements—Question of responsibility for loss between issuing bank and purchaser of draft, 517.

Indebtedness of Stockholder to Bank.—Recourse of Kansas bank upon shares of indebted stockholder, 518.

Purchase of Bill of Lading Draft.—Right of purchasing bank to proceeds in hands of collecting agent, as against drawee who, after paying draft, attached the funds because goods not up to contract, 518.

Non-Negotiable Bill of Lading Draft.—Draft payable "on arrival" and providing that "paid freight bill will be accepted as part payment" is not negotiable—Opinion that purchaser of non-negotiable draft, receiving payment from drawee and surrendering attached bill of lading, liable to refund where failure of consideration for draft, 519.

Pledge of Stock.—Right of bank, as unrecorded pledgee of stock of a corporation, to dividends declared thereon, as against attaching creditor of pledgor, 520.

Indorsement Before Payee.—Person indorsing note payable to bank liable to payee as indorser—Demand and notice (but not formal protest) necessary to preserve liability unless protest waived, 520.

Payee's Indorsement of Check as Prerequisite to Payment.—At common law debtor could not require receipt as a condition of payment and it has been held bank cannot require payee's indorsement where payee presents in person—But other cases and better view is that, by custom, bank may refuse payment if payee declines to indorse—No legal distinction between check to "A or order" and to "order of A," 521.

Premature Payment of Post-Dated Check.—Bank has no right or authority to pay post-dated check before day of its date arrives and no right to refuse payment of another check where funds would be sufficient except for premature payment of post-dated check—Wrongful refusal to pay subjects bank to damages recoverable by drawer, but holder of dishonored check has no recourse upon bank but must look to drawer and prior indorsers, 523.

Death of Drawer as Revocation of Check.—Except where a contrary rule is provided by statute and in the few states where check is an assignment, death of drawer of check revokes bank's authority to pay, although if bank pays in ignorance of death, it is protected, 523.

Corporate Seal to Note.—Seal not necessary to validity of corporation note, but use of seal does not affect negotiability, 523.

Interest Clause in Note.—Note payable one year from date with ten per cent. interest containing provisions that if interest not paid annually "to become as principal and draw same rate of interest" and to bear "only six per cent. interest if paid when due" is negotiable under decisions in Kansas, 524.

Note Payable at Bank.—Where customer makes note payable at bank, Negotiable Instruments Law provides that instrument is an order to bank to pay same for account of principal debtor thereon—Duty and obligation of bank in case of notes payable "thirty days after date" and "on demand after date," 524.

Payment of Savings Deposit.—Validity of payment or certification of check against savings deposit when book not produced as provided by by-laws—Discussed with reference to facts of a particular case, 525.

Deposit of Minor.—Parent cannot withdraw deposit to credit of minor without letters of guardianship—Where state statute provides that such deposit shall be held for "exclusive right and benefit" of minor and "free from control of all other persons except creditors" and "shall be paid" to minor whose receipt shall be a discharge to bank, query (1) as to right of legally appointed guardian to withdraw, (2) whether statute would be applicable to a national bank, 526.

Garnishment of Bank Account.—Procedure where account of "John Jones, Agent," garnished by creditor of Jones individually, 528.

Check Dated on Sunday or Holiday.—Validity of check dated on Sunday or holiday considered with reference to law of South Carolina, 529.

Check "In Full."—Where check "in full" is given for a fixed and undisputed claim of greater amount, acceptance by creditor does not bar recovery of balance—But where claim is disputed and unliquidated, acceptance by creditor prevents further recovery, 530.

Receipt of Deposits.—Bank under no obligations to receive deposits from undesirable persons and may close an account at any time it chooses, 530.

Certification of Check Whereon Payee's Indorsement Forged.—Certifying bank does not warrant genuineness of payee's indorsement and is not responsible to purchaser—If money paid by certifying bank thereon, it may be recovered, 530.

Discount at Highest Legal Rate.—While, generally, a bank may reserve interest in advance at highest legal rate, in Mississippi, such discount has been held to constitute usury, 531.

Assignment of Life Insurance Policy as Collateral.—Enforceable rights of bank, assignee of life insurance policy as collateral, as affected by (1) requirement of company that it will require all parties of record, including insured and beneficiary, to join in any settlement, and (2) disability of beneficiary to make assignment, 532.

Power of National Bank Cashier.—Authority to bind bank by independent guaranty of notes transferred, without special resolution of board of directors, 593.

Savings Account Husband in Trust for Wife.—

Where husband and wife perish in same disaster, no presumption at common law that one survived the other, but survivorship must be proved—If wife survived husband, her next of kin entitled to deposit, but if husband survived wife or both died simultaneously, deposit goes to husband's next of kin, 593.

Stopped Check.—Efficacy of notice by bank which receives order to stop payment that it will make every effort to protect customer, but will not be responsible in case of payment, 594.

Payment of Stopped Check.—Bank liable to depositor for any resultant damage—But if bank could prove payment made to a holder who had enforceable rights against drawer, probably it would escape liability, 595.

Forged Indorsement.—Indorsement of draft payable to "G. Smith" by person of the same name, but not the real payee, is a forgery, and the purchaser of draft is not protected, 596.

Credit of Overdraft as Deposit.—In New York, early rule that credit in a depositor's pass-book of an overdraft of another depositor is final and irrevocable has not been overturned, 596.

Married Woman's Note.—In New Jersey, married woman cannot bind herself upon note executed for accommodation of another unless she or her separate estate derives a benefit therefrom—But married woman can make note for loan to herself although intending to turn the money over to husband, 597.

Bank's Lien on Stock.—By statute in Arkansas, bank has lien on stock and dividends of its stockholder for indebtedness to bank, superior to claim of transferee, 597.

Payment of Check on Holiday.—Question considered and conclusion reached that, in present condition of law and the absence of direct judicial precedent, payment of a check on a holiday or half holiday would be of uncertain validity and at risk of bank, should drawer stop payment at opening of business on next business day, 654.

Note and Mortgage Given on Holiday.—In Washington, a note and mortgage executed, acknowledged and delivered on a legal holiday, is not prohibited by statute and is valid, 656.

Guaranty of Checkdrawer's Signature to Drawee.—Opinion that, apart from exceptional case where customer cannot write, bank has no right to require guaranty of drawer's signature to check as a condition of payment and that refusal to pay genuine check without such guaranty would be a dishonor for which bank would be liable to drawer—Payment of forged check, even though signature guaranteed, could not be charged to customer's account, 657.

Oral Stop Payment—Stale Check.—Notice not to pay a check may be given orally, as well as in writing—Question whether check outstanding more than year from date is stale as to place duty of inquiry on bank before payment, 658.

Married Woman as Surety in Pennsylvania.—Married woman, by statute, is under disability to become accommodation indorser, maker, guarantor or surety for another—Citation of decisions showing detailed development of the law, 653.

Revocation of Check by Death of Drawer.—Death of drawer revokes authority of bank to pay his outstanding checks wherever the rule prevails that a check is not an assignment, except in a few States where special statutes authorize payment within a limited period after death, 659.

Check for Entire Deposit.—Where husband, critically ill, draws and delivers to his wife a check for "all of my deposit," opinion that bank would be safe in paying wife, after drawer's death, on ground that check constituted an assignment and its delivery completed a gift causa mortis, by virtue of which deposit belonged to wife and not to husband's estate, 661.

Action Against Bank for Usury.—Admissibility of parol evidence to prove usury, where not proved by note itself, 661.

Lost Savings Pass-Book.—No necessity for bond of indemnity before paying money or issuing duplicate, except where bank uncertain as to identity of depositor or claimant—Decisions cited relative to bank's right to require indemnity by virtue of by-law provisions, 662.

Powers of National Bank.—Power to donate services of clerk in aid of an outside enterprise, 663.

Garnishment of Bank.—Bank receiving telegraphic request from correspondent to pay a specified person a certain sum, not subject to garnishment by creditor of such person prior to receipt of remittance from correspondent, 664.

Bank Collection.—Liability of collecting bank for neglect to follow instructions—Amount of damages, 664.

Banks as Safe Depositaries.—Statement of the law governing the duty and liability of banks as (1) gratuitous bailees of customers' securities for safekeeping; (2) lessors of safe deposit boxes for which customers pay rental, 665.

Dividends on Pledged Stock.—Dividends accruing on pledged stock belong to the pledgee, and company, after notice, liable to pledgee therefor, 667.

Set-off Against Indorser.—Bank has right to charge dishonored note to indorser's account, 667.

Certificate of Deposit.—Where certificate of deposit issued to A is pledged to B for value, without indorsement, and A obtains payment from bank at maturity on false statement that he has lost and not negotiated certificate, bank is not liable to B who, taking without indorsement, holds certificate subject to any defense good against A—Criminal liability of A for obtaining money by false pretense, 668.

By-Laws of Corporation.—Failure to adopt by-laws does not invalidate acts of corporation, 668.

Forged Express Company Money Order.—Where express money order bearing forgery of counter-signature of agent at purported point of issue is paid by agent of express company to innocent purchaser, question considered whether (a) payment recoverable under rule that money paid under mistake of fact may be recovered or (b) payment final and irrevocable on theory (1) that paying agent bound to know signature of issuing agent and (2) that public policy requires that as between parties equally innocent, loss must fall where course of business has placed it, 668.

Payment of Protested Check.—Question considered as to bank's right and duty to pay, upon a second presentment, a check previously dishonored and protested, 670.

Attachment of Fund Represented by Certificate of Deposit.—In Rhode Island a deposit represented by an outstanding negotiable certificate is exempt from attachment; but the certificate itself is subject to seizure by creditors of the owner, 670.

Certified Check.—Question of necessity of separate stamps indicating whether certification for drawer or for holder in view of distinction made by New Jersey decision that certifying bank can refuse payment to fraudulent holder where check certified for drawer but cannot so refuse where certification for holder—An Ohio decision ignores this distinction and holds that bank must pay fraudulent holder whether check certified for drawer or for holder, 749.

Certification of Post-Dated Check.—Bank has no right to pay or to certify a post-dated check, at request of the holder, before its date and so acts at its peril—Such certification at request of drawer also held irregular, although in Idaho held proper, if funds sufficient, when amount becomes immediately chargeable to his account and payable to holder irrespective of date, 750.

Accommodation Indorsement.—Where bank discounts three-months' note and at end of first month additional indorser signs for accommodation, opinion that indorsement without consideration and not binding, 751.

Garnishment of Bank Account.—Procedure by creditor bank to garnish debtor's account in another bank in Oklahoma, 751.

Negotiability of Note.—Effect upon negotiability of clause: "It is agreed that failure to pay any one note at maturity shall, at the option of the holder, mature all unpaid notes of this series," 752.

Lien of Ohio Bank on Stock.—By statute in Ohio, bank has lien on stock owned by its debtors and may refuse to transfer same until indebtedness is satisfied—Ohio decisions cited, 753.

Increase of National Bank Stock.—Where stock of national bank is increased by vote of necessary number of shareholders and resolution authorizing increase fixes premium at which new stock shall be sold, opinion that stockholder not participating or voting for increase has right to purchase his proportion of new shares at par, 754.

Form of Corporation Signature.—Form of signature "John Smith Company, John Smith Treasurer" without prefix of word "by" before "John Smith," generally held to be signature of corporation alone, 755.

Usury by National Bank.—Where usurious interest charged but not paid, entire interest is forfeited and principal alone recoverable—Question whether provision for attorney's fee in note would be enforceable, 755.

Forged Check.—Drawee's right of recovery from payee of money paid on forged check, 755.

Check with Remittance Stamp.—Effect of stamp on check: "The First State Bank of B— will remit for this check in eastern exchange, without charge," 756.

Indorsement of Check.—Check payable to "Mrs. M. E. Smith," indorsed "M. E. Smith" is properly indorsed—Question considered of obligation of drawee to pay a check where indorsement is insufficient or irregular upon guaranty of indorsement, 756.

Contract to Pay Commission on Sale.—Where contract cancelled before expiration, opinion that broker may recover commission as contract founded on sufficient consideration, 757.

Signature to Check Under Power of Attorney.—Where customer gives power of attorney to another to sign his name to checks, signature of customer's name by attorney, without adding "per A Attorney" is sufficient, although bank would probably have right to insist upon attorney's name being added, 760.

Protest of Forged Check.—A forged check is not properly protestable nor is demand and notice of dishonor necessary to hold an indorser who is liable to an indorsee as warrantor of genuineness—Agent holding such paper is duly diligent by giving notice of forgery within reasonable time, 760.

Payment of Deposit on Oral Order.—Bank is entitled to require check or other written order from customer to pay deposit, but if it is willing to and does pay on customer's oral order, the payment is valid and chargeable, assuming bank can prove such order, 827.

Alteration of Check.—Payee who erases from check the words "in full of all claims" probably guilty of material alteration which would avoid instrument—Responsibility of drawee which pays check so altered, 827.

Bank Set-Off.—Bank has right to apply deposit to payment of matured debt of depositor and in many jurisdictions, upon insolvency of depositor, even if debt not matured, 828.

Raised Check.—Ordinarily, bank which pays raised check cannot charge amount to drawer's account, but where drawer negligently leaves blanks unfilled, or partly unfilled, he facilitates fraud and is responsible, 828.

Protest of Note.—Question considered whether, when a check is taken in conditional payment of a note at its maturity and the check is dishonored on the following day, valid protest of the note can then be made, 829.

Payment of Check on Holiday.—In the absence of judicial decision upon the precise point, payment of a check on a holiday would be of uncertain validity and at risk of bank should drawer stop payment at opening of business on next business day, 829.

Premature Protest of Post-Dated Check.—A post-dated check is not payable until the day of its date arrives and a drawee bank which prematurely protests the post-dated check of its customer does so without legal right and is probably liable to him in damages therefor, 829.

Premature Protest of Post-Dated Check.—Bank causing protest of post-dated check before due date cannot charge protest fees, 830.

Bank as Bona Fide Purchaser.—Where B gives note to A which A indorses to bank "without recourse," receiving credit in his account, bank can enforce payment from B, notwithstanding defense of fraud, provided proceeds have been checked out before notice of fraud—Indorsement "without recourse" does not affect bank's status as holder in due course, 830.

Note Payable at Bank.—Where maker has funds in bank at maturity, failure of bank owning note to charge to account, or of outside holder to present for payment, will stop the running of interest, 831.

Dishonor of Check.—Liability of bank to customer for mistakenly refusing to pay his check drawn against sufficient funds, 832.

Check on Bank Where Drawer Has No Account.—Statute and decisions in Kansas showing what necessary to convict person obtaining value for worthless check, 832.

Payment of Check Signed by Mark.—Drawee, before paying check signed by mark and witnessed, should require guaranty or satisfactory evidence of genuineness—Drawee's right to recover money paid on forged check signed by mark, discussed, 833.
